Tips on Setting Up and Using Your Success Tips

Setting Up Your Success Tips

If you would like to automate your marketing, you can set up your success tips to be automatically sent to your list on a regular basis by pre-loading them into your database management system. Most database management software systems have the capability of sending automated or timed emails so that you load them once, schedule their delivery and leave them alone. Examples of the more popular email management systems are AWeber (www.aweber.com), Constant Contact (www.constantcontact.com), iContact (www.icontact.com), 1ShoppingCart (1shoppingcart.com), Infusionsoft (www.infusionsoft.com), or Ontraport (www.ontraport.com). You can research these to determine which solution is a best fit for your business needs.

For blog posts, you can simply preload your blogs and schedule in advance the days you want them to post.

As always, we recommend that you customize these success tips with your own stories, anecdotes and personal messages. But keep them short as that is what makes this tool so effective!

Using Your Success Tips

Staying in touch with your list in a meaningful way is the key to creating relationships, developing trust and familiarity, and ultimately converting your prospects into clients. Using numerous tools and delivering them through a variety of mediums allows you to be creative in your marketing which is more attractive to your prospects and clients.

Success Tips are a fantastic tool to use because they are short, provide great value, and can be delivered in written, audio or video form.

We recommend using your Success Tips in conjunction with the other Ready2Go products (<http://www.Ready2GoMarketingSolutions.com>), as all the Ready2Go products coordinate together.

Here are a few ways you can use your Ready2Go Tips: (also, for consistency with this bulleted list either add a period to all or remove from all)

- Blog posts
- A “Thought of the Week” or “Success Tip of the Week”, that provides value, is easy to read, and is a meaningful touch.
- A short article in your newsletter
- Can be recorded and emailed in audio form, placed on your blog, on your website or sent in your newsletter.
- Can be developed into a short video training and be emailed to your list, placed on your blog, on your website, or sent in your newsletter.

Change Your Habits to Achieve Success – Successful Routines of Original Thinkers.

When you think of ‘original thinkers’ who comes to mind? DaVinci? Henry Ford? Steve Jobs? Elon Musk? Robin Williams?

Original thinkers can be found throughout history in all fields of study: philosophy, business, science, technology, and the arts. Original thinkers are nonconformists who are not only creative themselves, but champion new ideas and aren’t afraid to put it all on the line to see what happens. They’re the risk-taking innovators, creators and conceptualizers that shape our world.

What sets them apart from the rest of us? Not that much as it turns out.

If you want to nurture and develop the original thinker inside you here are several tips to get you started based on how the venerable original thinkers behave.

1. Original thinkers don’t shy away from bad ideas. No idea is a bad idea if it gets them closer to their goal. Think of digging for gold. You have to bust a LOT of rock to find a few measly morsels. The same thing goes for finding that great idea. You have to bust a lot of bad ideas before discovering the golden one.
2. They have doubts too, but they manage them differently. They don’t personalize doubt - they doubt the idea, not themselves. Doubt becomes a solvable problem rather than a character flaw.
3. Original thinkers have fear too. They fear failure. They’re afraid of embarrassing themselves. They fear looking foolish. But their fear of not trying outweighs those other fears. That motivates them to take risks in spite of the fear.
4. They’re always on the lookout for a better option. Whether it’s a user-friendlier web browser, more efficient operating procedures, or an electric car design, original thinkers don’t accept the status quo. They take initiative to improvement upon it.

Original thinkers aren’t that different than the rest of us. By learning to embrace bad ideas, procrastination, fear, and doubt, you can be more like the original thinkers and shape your own success.
